Operator Training

Maximizing Understanding with Domino N610i

Course Description

This course is designed for press operators to gain hands-on training on the N610i Digital Press. The course will provide operators with the skills, knowledge, and practice to set up standard jobs and run production. The N610i Digital Press operators course will cover the hardware, software, and basic maintenance of the press. Class time will focus on the hands-on learner and give opportunities for each student to operate and familiarize themselves with the daily use and maintenance of the machine. Classes will be capped at 4 students to provide for enough hands-on time.
